KOSHER KITCHENS

The strict dietary laws of keeping a kosher home can be a design challenge that requires additional considerations. The mixing of "meat" and "dairy" is not allowed, which can mean separate preparation, cooking, and storage areas for each. Adequate dish and cutlery storage is also key, often requiring space for several sets of both casual and fine dining options.

Very often Kosher kitchen layouts include dual appliances; refrigerators, ovens and dishwashers. Ovens with Sabbath mode are very important. The Place for Kitchens and Baths can offer a variety of creative storage and space solutions that will maximize functionality and space utilization in the Kosher kitchen.

WE PROUDLY USE CERTIFIED GREEN PRODUCTS

The current environmental "green movement" has everyone looking for ways to protect and preserve the earth. At the Place For Kitchens and Baths, we proudly use methods and materials that are considered green, which indicate that the products that were removed from the environment can be replenished. The concept behind sustainable and green furniture is to create products that require the smallest amount of our planet's resources. While using the best practices of green design, we ensure that our environment is preserved, while creating the kitchen, bath, and library spaces that you have always dreamed of having in your home.

The environmentally friendly kitchens and baths that our teams produce can be attributed to the some of the following methods:

- Utilizing reclaimed products such as wood that are transformed into new furniture items
- The placement of heating and cooling appliances to conserve maximum energy
- The use of non-toxic products for paints, finishes and flooring materials
- Using evolving energy efficient appliances
